

Your New Home

should be made artistic, sanitary and livable.

These walls should be Alabastined in the latest, up-to-the-minute nature color tints. Each room should reflect your own individuality and the treatment throughout be a complete perfect harmony in colors.

The walls of the old home, whether mansion or cottage, can be made just as attractive, just as sanitary, through the intelligent use of

Alabastine

Instead of kalsomine or wallpaper

How much better, when you have a new home, to start right than to have to correct errors afterward from former treatment with other materials, when you come to the use of Alabastine, as does nearly every one sooner or later.

Once your walls are Alabastined you can use any material over it should you desire, but having used Alabastine you will have no desire for any other treatment.

Alabastine is so easy to mix and apply—so lasting in its results—so absolutely sanitary—and so generally recognized as the proper decorative material in a class by itself that it is becoming difficult to manufacture fast enough to supply the demand.

Alabastine is a dry powder, put up in five-pound packages, white and beautiful tints, ready to mix and use by the addition of cold water, and with full directions on each package. Every package of genuine Alabastine has cross and circle printed in red.

Better write us for hand-made color designs and special suggestions. Give us your decorative problems and let us help you work them out.

YOU CAN WALK IN COMFORT

If you shake into your shoes some ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE, the Antiseptic, Healing powder for shoes that pinch or feet that ache. It takes the friction from the shoe and gives relief to corns and bunions, hot, tired, sweating, swollen feet. Ladies can wear shoes one size smaller by shaking Allen's Foot-Ease in each shoe.—Adv.

MORE THAN HE COULD STAND

Mr. Cityman Changed His Mind When Business Partner Began to Brag About His Garden.

What He Said to His Wife—If you want a garden this year you had better hire somebody to make it. I'm not going to try it again. I've figured it out; and if I would spend on my business the time I put in on that garden I would make enough money to keep us in vegetables for fifty years. I am off it for life.

What He Said to His Neighbor—I don't think I'll bother with a garden this year. It doesn't pay; I may do a little; but the digging and the labor—I'm off that for life.

What He Said to His Partner—Well, how's the garden coming along? I'm not doing much with mine this year. What? How high did you say? Already? What seed did you use?

What He Said to His Wife When He Got Home An Hour Early That Day—Call me when dinner's ready. I've got to get the garden started today or I'll never raise a thing.—Life.

NOT WHAT THEY LOOKED FOR

Audience, Like Readers of Novels, Wanted What They Had Been Used to Getting.

Dr. William Lyon Phelps of Yale said at a dinner in Philadelphia: "The average popular novelist and his audience are very, very—well, it reminds me of a story."

"An old-time music hall artist turned up, after some years of absence, in a certain provincial town where he had once been a great favorite. He went on in his usual make-up—bulbous red nose and so forth—expecting a grand reception, but all his efforts were received in gloomy silence."

"What's the matter with 'em?" he said afterward to the stage manager, and he dashed a tear from his eye. "Have they forgotten old Bill?"

"No, Bill, they ain't forgotten you," said the manager in a kindly voice. "No, it ain't that, but you've changed your jokes about. You're tellin' the one about the star boarder ahead of the one about the limburger, and it upsets 'em."

Strange Inconsistencies. Here is one of life's inconsistencies: A mouse is afraid of a man, a man is afraid of a woman, and a woman is afraid of a mouse.—Exchange.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE COWS.

"I am waiting to be milked," said Molly Cow.

"So am I," said Milly Cow.

"And the same is true of me," said Maggie Cow.

These three cows were sitting by a brook which ran through a lovely meadow.

There were a number of other cows belonging to the same farmer, but they were standing in the brook, wading in cow-fashion.

The cow-fashion in wading is much the same as it is in the world of girls, except cows do not hold up their skirts as girls do when they go in wading, so that their skirts will not get wet.

Girls always do this. They hold up their skirts to their knees, and then they wade in just as far as they dare without getting their skirts wet. Sometimes they do get the edges of their skirts wet, but still wading is lots of fun!

Now, the cows didn't hold up their skirts, because, in the first place, they didn't have any skirts.

Neither did it matter whether they got wet right up to their knees, though they didn't get wet to their knees, as the brook was not very deep, and the cows were quite good-sized, as cows are apt to be.

The cows didn't have to take off their shoes and stockings, either, as they didn't wear shoes and stockings, and had none to wear if they had wanted to wear them.

They wouldn't have wanted to wear shoes and stockings, so they were much pleased they didn't have to do anything like that.

"Those cows are getting cooled off in the brook," said Molly Cow.

"They are," agreed Milly Cow.

"Yes, they are," said Maggie Cow.

"I don't believe in saying anything very bright," said Molly Cow.

"Neither do I," said Milly Cow.

"I wouldn't bother to say anything bright, either," said Maggie Cow.

"In the first place it would be a shock to people if we were awfully bright and dashed about and did tricks like dogs and ponies," said Molly Cow.

"It would surprise them too much," said Milly Cow.

"Much too much," said Maggie Cow.

"It is better just to look at them with our big eyes," said Molly Cow.

"I don't suppose we could look at them with anything else," said Milly Cow.

"I don't suppose we could," said Maggie Cow.

"And so we don't," said Molly Cow.

"But I meant to say that we looked at them quietly and peacefully and didn't show them by our eyes that we were quick and smart and ready to do bright things.

"Waiting."

"For my part I am perfectly satisfied to chew my way through life. I don't want to do anything else. I like to give milk, it is true. And I am waiting to give the farmer milk now, as we all are waiting to do."

"But I don't wish I were anything but a cow. I like to stand about or sit down or lie down. I like to wade in the water, I like to chew nice grass in this meadow. But I wouldn't want to be a dog, for example, rushing this way and that, always ready to chase sticks and balls and take long walks and runs."

"Oh, no, the life of the cow is a peaceful life! Sometimes I turn around and look at a fly which is on my back and I try to shoo him away, and I wish my tail about to make the flies move."

"That is enough for me to do. Anything more would be too much."

"Too much," agreed the other cows, "moo, moo," anything more would be too much!"

A Millionaire of Happiness. Some girls are veritable millionaires of happiness. They seem unable to take any but a cheerful view. Their faces shine with happy thoughts. They see the funny side of many a mischance which would move a girl of different temperament to tears. And girls like these are richer than those who are wealthy, as far as money is concerned, and poor in cheer. The millionaire of happiness is the only millionaire to be envied.—Girls' Companion.

FELT LIKE AN IRON BAND AROUND HEAD

Mrs. Osborne Says She Shudders When She Thinks How She Suffered.

"For years," said Mrs. V. B. Osborne, of 718 Lancaster Ave., Lexington, Ky., "I have been in a run-down condition; nervous, weak and dizzy. I was actually so nervous that any sudden noise or excitement would produce a palpitation of my heart that frightened me. I absolutely could not climb stairs, for to attempt such would thoroughly exhaust me."

"I had nervous headaches and when they came on it seemed that an iron band was drawn tight around my head. I now shudder when I think of those headaches. My stomach was weak and I could not digest the lightest liquid food. Any food of a solid nature caused nausea and the sickening sensation remained for hours."

"My misery was almost unbearable. My sleep was never sound and I was worn out all the time. My condition was indeed a very deplorable one. I finally sought treatment in Cincinnati, but nothing helped me one particle. I was on the verge of giving up in despair when a neighbor pleaded with me to try Tanlac. I obtained a bottle of the medicine and began its use."

"I began improving at once and soon felt my nervousness and dizziness disappearing. Then my headaches left me and I realized my strength had returned. My appetite and digestion improved and I am now so much better in every way. This Tanlac is a wonderful medicine and the only one that ever really helped me. I hope every poor woman who is suffering as I did will try it."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.
